EMPLOYEE SPOTLIGHT

Stephanie Rios, Paralegal Medical Malpractice

This month our Employee Spotlight is on Stephanie Rios, a paralegal in our Medical Malpractice division who has been with BJM Law since 2014.

When Stephanie walks into a room, she lights it up with her infectious smile. Her clients immediately feel a connection because of her welcoming personality.

As our Medical Malpractice continues to thrive, so does Stephanie. Her ability to relate to clients who have been through complete devastation cultivates our mantra #ourbjmteamisfamily.

We think it is her compassion and sympathy comes from her home life. Stephanie wears her heart on her sleeve and prides herself on her family.

At home, Stephanie is the mom who does it all. Even though she works full time, she doesn't miss a beat with regards to her children or her home life.

She is dedicated to showing her children that family is the circle of strength and life's greatest blessing. Whether it's out on the field, at dance lessons or school functions, helping with homework or snuggling on the couch, she juggles it all.

There is no doubt that through it all, Stephanie is an essential piece to the puzzle here at the firm and we are glad she is part of our work family. One last fun fact about Stephanie... She makes the best Spanish Rice ever!!!

BJM LAW HAPPENINGS

Issue #2

BJM Law continues to keep the momentum throughout the month of February. On February 7th we participated in an International food day. From Spanish rice and beans, empanadas and pernil pork, to German potato salad, Italian meatballs Thai steak salad with sticky rice, All American chili, and desserts galore, it sure was a success...and by 3pm that day you probably could sense that everyone was in a food coma.

Over the last few weeks BJM Law has introduced 3 new team members. Let's give a warm welcome to Tom Houghton, Personal Injury Paralegal, Linda Arena, Workers' Comp Paralegal and Melissa Garbe, Workers' Comp Paralegal.

Each one of these individuals bring an array of experience to the firm and we are glad they are now part of our work family.

The list of Do Goods is off the charts this month and even our very own BJM (Bossman) was nominated for one!! Congrats to BJM and the following individuals for being recognized for Do Goods this month. Vicki, AJ, Steve, Yachai, Melissa T, Doris, Jess, Alissa

The weather has us itching for spring to come for sure but to hold us over, we are thinking about indoor fun. For our next team building event, we took a poll and we are pretty sure we will head out to try some axe throwing. Should be interesting to say the least.

Working hard every day in and out for our clients is beyond important here at the firm, but to stay fresh and work as a team is just as important. Building relationships in every aspect of life is crucial to success and that's why we add the fun into the work environment.
